"Take your everyday, ordinary life- your sleeping, eating, going-to-work, and walking-around life- and place it before God as an offering."

Dear Graduate,

For some a degree is a powerful instrument, used in life to advance a cause, an idea, a movement. Yet for others it falls limp, not a door opener, nor used to upset the status-quo: just a piece of paper that cost a lot.

So what makes the difference?

From four decades of watching young people graduate, the difference I see is how an educational experience integrates with a student's will and vision in setting their course for life.

We all love to be surprised: when years later the person we - under our breath- assumed would mount to very little, turns an idea on its ear, going way beyond what any of us expected. The simple fact is that I really can't tell what is going on inside your mind, your heart, your inner life.

Will and vision-two incredibly important factors of our human personality-can make the difference.

In the will lies unimagined opportunities. In learning to see with a new perspective, into a world obscured to many, we choose to move forward, testing the barriers, pressing past our inner fears, knowing all the time that "He who began a good work in you will carry it on to completion until the day of Christ Jesus."

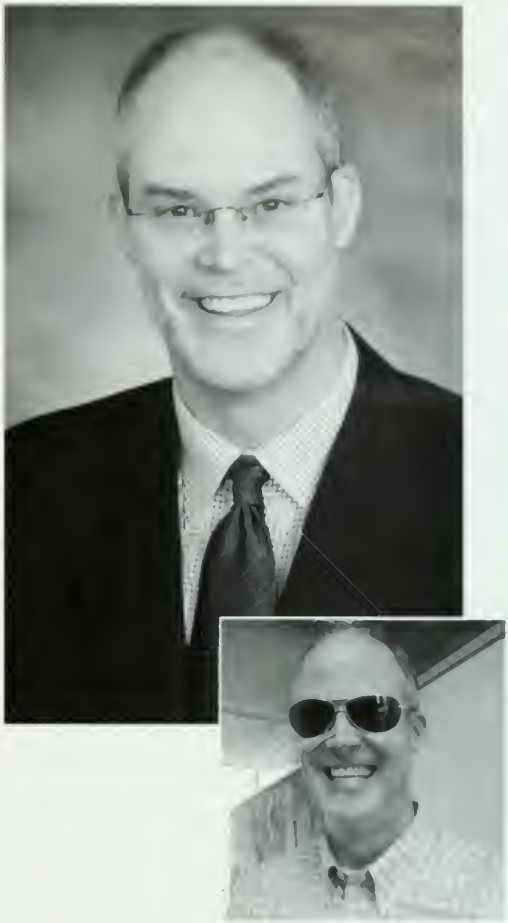
Your degree, as a valuable document can open doors. What matters then is how we mobilize the accumulated experience and knowledge once the door has opened.

As a University we have been blessed by your presence.

Go in the strength and power of God, serving in this world even as our Lord Jesus Christ served.

Brian C. Stiller
President

This year, 2008, marks the 20th anniversary of my graduation from Roberts Wesleyan College in Rochester, New York. It's hard to believe it's been that long. So many of the events of my undergraduate days are still very vivid in my mind: the guys in Carp Hall, Garlock food three-times-a-week, required chapels at Pearce and Parmeter, my favorite prof (Charles Herman), student council training week, Raiders' basketball games, my loft, the preaching of Pastor Gary Walsh at the campus church, and regular visits to The Village Green Bookstore and The Little Theatre with my girlfriend (now wife!). With the significance of the anniversary, I've been tempted to find my old Chesbroians - the Robert's yearbook - blow the dust off the cover and spend some time with old friends and familiar sights.



Today this yearbook is new to you, but someday, I would imagine, you'll do the very same thing: wander through this significant moment in your life and, I hope, give thanks to God for His faithfulness and the blessings of 2007-2008.

Enjoy this beautifully created book at this moment, next week, and a year from now. But cherish it ten, twenty, and fifty years from now. It's a tangible marker of where you've been and where you're going.

Twenty years ago I was a new graduate not knowing what the future would hold. I could have never imagined then what I'm doing today and I'm blessed...blessed to participate with you as you discover life and grope through the mystery. I hope and pray the same will be true for you.

A Word From Your President

As another year at Tyndale draws to a close, I find myself asking the question that I usually do at this point in the year. "Where did the time go?" As I think about our year together I am overwhelmed by the Lord's amazing faithfulness. Whether playing floor hockey, celebrating our year end banquet in 'Hollywood' style, ministering downtown, worshipping together, or in our studies, the Lord has been good to us and has given us the amazing blessing of this unique and diverse community.

Thank you so much to Gerry, Alicia, Ryan, Spencer, Andrew, Jessica, Dani, Laura-Ashleigh, Kristen, Rob, Casie, Leslie and Joanna for your hours of time and dedication to the Student Council Team. Your hearts for this community have challenged, and spurred me on continually over these months. I am so grateful for the ways in which you have made yourself available to be used by the Lord for His purposes this year, as you responded to 'no longer be your own, but His.'Also, thank you George for the many ways in which you minister and bless the students of Tyndale UC. Your hours of time and continual encouragement have been so valued this year.

As my time as a Tyndale student comes to an end, I was to leave you with one thought to think about. These years have so much to offer us and these is so much for us to experience. As a good friend recently reminded me, our years at Tyndale can be as rich as we allow them to be, for we truly get out of this experience what we put into it. If we are willing to immerse ourselves in the worshipful life - a life of excellence for the Kingdom in celebration of the true King, these years will not only be transforming our minds, they will also be forming our hearts to be followers of Christ that find true congruence in our beliefs and our daily actions.

As we leave at the end of another year, I pray that you will take the fullness that God has made available to you and work, play, study, speak, and serve all for His glory and Honor.

May you delight fully in all that He is, for He so delights in you!

Blessings,
Ashley Saunders

Missions - Miami

From Camilus House to Branches and everywhere in between, we saw God working with and through the people that work at these places spread all over South Florida on a daily basis. We went there with the attitude of servanthood and came back served ourselves in so many ways, with our hearts broken for the people of Miami. We are forever grateful for the time spent serving there and the profound impact it had on our lives. I was very blessed to work alongside Dr. Wong, Carole, Ryan, Amie, Liz, Carli, Jennifer, and Jenna on the Miami Missions Trip.

Editor's Last Words

Oscar Wilde's last words were:
"Either this wallpaper goes, or I do."
For some reason I have always loved that, and I thought it would be fun to share.

Looking back, doing the yearbook was a pleasure. Student Council did an incredible job this year. They were all brilliant, and I am happy I could capture some of the memories they helped make for us. And since this may be the only chance I get to say it, one of my favorite memories of Tyndale will always be of Ashley Saunders discreetly dumping a plate full of chicken from the Mandarin into her purse.* You'll be missed Ashley.

I dare not leave this last page without thanking those who helped take pictures: Ian Robinson, Leslie Fidler and Heather Kay... you're awesome. Also, much thanks to my husband, Mat, who taught me how to do everything, and took a lot of these photos.

And finally, to all of you reading, thanks for your smiling faces...you made my job easier.

*Guilt-ridden, Ashley never did eat any of the chicken.
